Our Coffin Selection

Our Coffin Selection

When arranging a funeral for a loved one, the choice of coffin is one of the most important decisions to be made. Today, families are increasingly choosing a coffin that reflects the personality, hobbies, interests or values of their loved one.

We have carefully curated a range of coffins in a variety of styles and materials to help you celebrate the unique life of your loved one. All of the coffins in our range are hand-crafted from responsibly sourced materials and have undergone extensive testing to ensure they meet strict industry standards and are approved by the FFMA.

Your funeral arranger will be happy to guide you through our selection to enable you to choose the right coffin for your loved one.

Embellishment

For a personal touch, our willow coffins can be decorated with a woven cross (other simple motifs may be available on request).

Memories

Our natural coffins can be decorated with your own personal messages as part of a farewell. These messages could be anything from a memorable moment, to an expressive feeling. Each message is individually inscribed onto a small wooden heart or circle, finished with natural cord and supplied in sets of four. They can be hand tied to the coffin by the family or, if you wish, we can help you with this. The memories can also be kept back after the funeral as a keepsake or tribute for remembrance.

Each memory can hold up-to five lines of text; each line can hold up-to 22 characters. We recommend about four to six memories each side of your willow coffin; however, you could include many more at your own discretion if you wished.

The memories shown in the image below have been carefully tied to the plait of the lid. They could also be placed onto the handles or directly onto the weave of the coffin.
